Message from the Headteacher

Dear Parents and Carers

As we come to the end of week three of the Autumn Term, I want to thank you for your ongoing support. I am delighted with how well Year 7 have settled into life at Meadow Park and it has been a pleasure to get to know them.

Our enrichment programme is in full swing and the number of clubs and activities for students is impressive. Students are encouraged to develop their learning outside of the classroom through such things as the weekly subject challenge, subject based clubs, together with home learning (what you and I might remember as homework!). In addition, we have the lunchtime inter-house competitions which run weekly. The inter-house competitions are not just at lunchtimes; they are embedded in our Personal Development Programme and Tutor Time. Each week I reveal the winning Tutor Group, House and individual students with the most House Points.

As part of our rewards structure, students are able to exchange the points they have earned for rewards; this happens each week in the Theatre where students can exchange their reward card for a prize. We have also introduced bigger prizes, and today was the first of the lucky draw for students who have completed their Reward Cards. All of these

House Points go towards the final House Cup awarded in the summer.

As we have moved into the term we are focusing on maintaining high standards. Please do check that your child is wearing the correct uniform as we have sometimes found that the uniform is in the bag rather than being worn. As a reminder, we do not allow hoodies at any time including break and lunchtimes.

Next week is Meet the Tutor evening for students from all year groups, (Y7 - Y13), On Thursday 25 September 2025 from 4 to 6pm in person in the Theatre. We look forward to seeing you.

Thank you for your continued support.
I wish you a lovely weekend.

With best wishes

Mrs Pettman
Headteacher

Dangerous TREND: Salt + Ice 'Challenge'

A dangerous online trend is resurfacing where children put salt on their skin and press ice on top. It is NOT harmless. It causes severe cold burns, scarring & sometimes skin grafts. Please talk to children & young people—don't risk lasting damage for online likes.

- ✳️ This causes serious cold burns (like frostbite).
- ✳️ Injuries can need hospital treatment and even skin grafts.
- ✳️ Young people may not realise the damage until it's too late.

Parents & carers: beware the "Salt & Ice Challenge." ❄️ + 🧊 = serious burns.

If you need to treat a burn:

- ✅ Cool under lukewarm water for 10+ mins
- ✅ Cover with cling film
- ✅ Seek medical help

Don't let a trend leave permanent scars.

Remind your children:

Hurting yourself for likes isn't worth it. The scars can last a lifetime

GROUP CHATS

Group chats are a hugely popular way for children to stay in touch with their friends, whether via messaging apps, social platforms or games. These online groups can help them feel connected, strengthen relationships and encourage creativity – but they also come with certain risks.

From teasing and exclusion to privacy worries and inappropriate content, children can experience a wide range of challenges in group chats.

Please remember that you should be checking your child's group chats on their devices regularly to ensure safe and appropriate conduct within them.

The attached guide can give some advice around spotting signs of trouble and offers ways to support children in using group chats safely and respectfully.

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about GROUP CHATS

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

On messaging apps, social media and online games, group chats are one of the most popular ways that children connect. Group chats allow messages, images and videos to be shared in one place and help friendships flourish; however, they also come with a number of risks.

TEASING AND BULLYING

Children of all ages are keen to fit in socially, and group chats can sometimes complicate that process. While group chats can foster connections, they can also give way to mean comments or jokes at someone's expense, especially when others join in the laughs. When bullying happens publicly, in front of friends and classmates, it can intensify the emotional impact – adding to embarrassment, anxiety and feelings of isolation for the child being targeted.

UNKNOWN MEMBERS

Children often aren't aware who is added to a group, which can lead to privacy concerns. Sharing personal details in group chats can be dangerous, and children have no control over what others do with the material they send. Some members of the chat might even decide to use such information maliciously.

PEER PRESSURE

Children may feel they have to constantly stay engaged just to be included and keep up with the conversation. In some cases, they might participate in inappropriate behaviours – like sending explicit photos, jokes or teasing – just to fit in. Group settings can also encourage children to act in ways they normally wouldn't, or stay silent when they know something is wrong, out of fear of being excluded. Some children may find it difficult to leave their group chats.

INAPPROPRIATE CONTENT

Some group chats may include inappropriate language or imagery. Even if a child isn't actively participating in the conversation, they may still be exposed to this content simply by being part of the group. Some apps have disappearing messaging features, where content is only available once or for a few seconds, which makes it harder for children to report something they've seen.

EXCLUSION AND ISOLATION

Exclusion in group chats is common and can take several forms. Sometimes a new group is created specifically to leave one child out on purpose. In other cases, the chat may happen on an app that a child doesn't have access to, making it impossible for them to join in. This can cause feelings of being left out – even without really.

VIDEO AND LIVE CHATS

Many popular apps allow children to engage in live streaming with interactive chats or have group video chats. Anyone can be added to these streams, and often children tag peers in the comments and have conversations which are unsupervised. There's a risk of being exposed to inappropriate or violent content and offensive language, either in the group videos or in the group chats.

Advice for Parents & Educators

CONSIDER OTHERS' FEELINGS

Group chats can become an arena for children to compete for social status. Help children consider how people might feel if they behave unkindly. If a child does speak unkindly, encourage them to reach out, show sympathy and apologise for their remarks.

SUPPORT, NOT JUDGEMENT

Group chats are an excellent way for children to connect and feel like they belong. However, remind them that they can confide in you if they feel bullied or excluded. Instead of investigating in the person who's speaking them, validate their feelings and support them by discussing how they'll handle the situation. You can also encourage children to speak up if they witness others being bullied.

SET SOME GROUP CHAT RULES

Discuss safe group chat practices, such as asking a peer for consent before adding them to a group chat, or leaving a group chat if a stranger is added. Tell children that if they're added to a group they didn't agree to beforehand, it's OK for them to leave immediately.

PRACTISE SAFE SHARING

It's vital for children to be aware of what they're sharing and who might potentially see it. Ensure they understand the importance of not revealing personal details – like their address, their school, or photos they wouldn't like to be seen online. Remind them that once something is shared in a group, they can't be certain where it might end up or how it might be used.

BLOCK, REPORT AND LEAVE

If a child witnesses inappropriate content or feels uncomfortable in a group chat, encourage them to block and report the sender and leave the group. Make sure children know it's OK to leave a group chat if they feel uncomfortable or unsafe.

SILENCE NOTIFICATIONS

Being bombarded with notifications from a group chat can be an irritating distraction – especially if it's happening late in the evening. Explain to children that they can still be part of a group chat while disabling notifications. In fact, it would be healthier for them to do so, helping them avoid the pressure to respond immediately.
